

Changing the World: Welcoming and Integrated Services for People with Co-occurring Mental Health and Substance Use Conditions

A Vimeo OnDemand Instructional Video Series

Kenneth Minkoff, MD

“People with co-occurring conditions are an expectation not an exception; these individuals and families should be welcomed as a priority for help and hope, wherever and whenever they present.”

Co-occurring/Complexity Capability

Dr. Minkoff describes the importance of designing every aspect of a behavioral health and/or health system to be about the needs and hopes of people with complex challenges who come to the door.

Learn 6 evidence-based principles of successful integrated treatment that can be applied by anyone for any population they are serving, and specific interventions associated with each principle.

You will come away with an ability to quickly apply these principles and interventions in your own work, and to make progress in developing competency and capability to work with people with co-occurring mental health and substance use conditions.

Free Bonus Materials

Downloadable simple materials that you can use to organize integrated case presentations and formulations, integrated stage-matched treatment interventions, and integrated recovery-oriented treatment plans, and a 12-step Program for developing co-occurring or complexity competency.
